

Dear Hiring Manager,

I hope this letter finds you well. My name is Ruslan Polovyi, and I am writing to express my keen interest in opportunities within your esteemed company. With over 15 years of experience in the field of IT, I have established myself as a seasoned professional, dedicated to driving innovation and delivering exceptional results.

Originally from Ukraine, I made the decision to immigrate to Poland in 2014. Since then, I have been deeply involved in the IT sector, culminating in the co-founding of an IT firm in 2020, specializing in cloud solutions tailored to the Polish market. While initially a joint venture with a friend, I have since taken the helm of the company single-handedly, overseeing its growth and spearheading the development of software products that have garnered attention both domestically and internationally.

One of our flagship offerings includes modules for WHMCS and WISECP systems, alongside a bespoke VPN server management panel and account system, all of which have been pivotal in cementing our presence within the industry. You can explore our products further on our website: <https://puqcloud.com/>.

However, recent events in Ukraine and the evolving situation in Poland have compelled me to seek opportunities elsewhere, particularly in Canada. I have completed all necessary formalities for relocation and am now actively seeking a position where I can apply my skills and expertise to contribute meaningfully to a dynamic team.

Beyond seeking employment, I am eager to explore avenues for collaboration and mutual growth. I am confident that my entrepreneurial spirit, coupled with your company's resources and vision, could lead to fruitful partnerships and substantial financial gains. Furthermore, despite my physical relocation, I am committed to ensuring the continued success of my IT business in Poland, thanks to a capable team that I have nurtured over the years.

I am excited about the possibility of joining your team and contributing to its continued success. I am prepared to discuss how my skills align with your company's objectives and how we can mutually benefit from a collaboration. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss this further.

Warm regards,

Ruslan Polovyi
